CORONER'S JURY FINDS VERDICT

Five-Year-Old Child Met Death From Injuries Received by Being Struck by Automobile Driven by Chalmers, Say Investigators - Arrests Not Yet

At nine o'clock last night after an investigation covering a period of four days a coroner's jury returned a verdiet that five year-old Kaonohiokala Aliza Antone died from injures received by being struck by an automo bile driven by William G. Chalmers. Only a few persons were present when the jurors came out and autounced that a verdict had been reached. Attorney Prosser, who represented Chalmers during the injury was notified that a verdiet had been reached and hurried to Chalmers was not present and the police made no effort to locate him. whether or not arrests will now be made or the officers will await possi-ble action by the grand jury is not known. It was reported that the grand jury was convened yesterday and that an investigation of the death of the child was taken up.

Straightforward Verdict. Following is the verdict of the jury returned last night: Knonohiokala Aliza Antone, of Nawiliwib, Kauai, aged five years, came to her death on the second day of August, 1913, at Honolulu, from fracture of the base of the skull and corebral hemorrhage, caused by being struck and thrown to the ground while crossing King street, Kapalama, by the right fender of automobile numbered 1199, driven by one William G. Chalmers, Rose's Version of Verdict.

'The verdict, as I take it, leaves it open," said Deputy Sheriff Rose last night. "I will have a conference with the county attorney's office in the morning over the matter, and it will he determined then whether Chalmers will be arrested or not.

"I do not believe that the verdict as rendered condemns Chalmers, aldriven by him, killed the girl. That was a fact, that the machine, driven by Chalmers, was responsible for the girl's death."

Max Schlemmer, caretaker of the Odd Fellows' building, testified to having been aboard an eastbound trolley car the thinking street line, which passed stood interlocked after their collision on the makai side of the road, Ewa of the Palama fire station. He says he saw Mrs. Chalmers standing by the car. He had seen Chalmers about two ek, the latter in his auto, and they had bowed to each other,

"I saw the child just as she struck our machine," said Mrs. Chalmers.

"We swerved to the left to get out of her way. Mr. Chalmers did not speak to me until after the child had been taken to the house. Then he said he did not think the baby was hurt at all."

As to Chalmers' habits while driving the car, she said he rarely ever spoke while he was at the wheel. She was sitting in the rear seat, and they had not been speaking while Mr. Chalmers was driving along King street.

After spending a fews days, during which time he was occupied with masses of complicated figures, Territorial Auditor J. H. Fisher has brought order out of chaos and for the first time in the history of the Honolulu water works and sewers department, the real condition of the finances of this dual department is now made public.

Since the passage of the law by the last legislature which authorizes the transfer of the water works and sewers ment, both municipal and territorial officials have been trying to figure out just how the thing could be done and a
